

Monday, March 7 of 2016

DAILY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF FIGUEIRA, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS???????

While many live physical wars and conflicts that destroy life for not finding peace, others live the spiritual and internal wars and conflicts between their own material beliefs and the Plans of God for their higher beings. These conflicts often destroy the soul and do not allow it to evolve for not finding peace.

Children, purification both in matter and in spirit is inevitable, but the way it will elapse will depend on how each one places oneself before it.

In the midst of a war, some choose to adhere to conflicts and generate more wars. Others are indifferent and waiting for violence to touch the door of their homes. While others seek peace, even if it is through a path of transcendence, but they can find understanding, forgiveness and faith, because they are in God.

Before an inner war between what God expects from you and what you have built in yourselves, based on what you believed you should be, you can find the same three paths of physical war: you can conflict with God and live permanent inner distress by not accepting the Will of the Father and by not surrendering to Him; you can be indifferent to this Will and, although you do not conflict with It, you do not surrender either, and believe you are not suffering, but you make the soul disappear little by little; or you can look for peace, understanding, forgiveness of yourselves, and by accepting that the traced paths were based on your own pride and on your own ignorance, renounce to all of them and open yourself to start again, from the point that serves you in order to find the Will of God and not your own.

And, thus, children, you must be more conscious about the moments that you live and always think that this is a planetary and not a personal situation. Transcendence and renunciation themselves must be in favor of the evolution of this world.

Do not keep always running away from your own defeat only for fear of humiliation and inability of allowing yourself to be defeated because yes, every battle is painful but the faster you allow yourself to be defeated, the greater will be the peace that you will be able to live.

Humiliation is a Grace granted to the brave, who must demonstrate their courage as an example similar to the one of the Son of God.

If you consider that the path of transformation in Christ is for you, then, as a first step, surrender to God, unite with Him and allow yourselves to be humiliated in order to lose at once the old man based on pride and on human power so that the new man, who has self-emptying as a principle, lives in you.

The one who loves you and guides you through the path of humility,

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph