DAILY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF FIGUEIRA, MINAS GERAIS, BRAZIL, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS?????????

Even when the world submerges in chaos, unite to the Heart of God and remain within it.

Even when external influences lead you to a lack of concentration, to distraction, and to the capital energies of the Earth, unite to the Heart of God and remain within it.

Even though it may seem you do not have enough strength to respond to the Plan, unite to the Heart of God and remain within it.

When the influences of the enemy pervade the human mind intensely, the lie he imprints upon the collective mind may become true for many. For this reason, beyond what you may come to think and feel about yourself, about others, and even about the Plans of God, unite to the Heart of God and remain within it.

To reach the Heart of God, it is enough to seek it and sincerely aspire to be within it, because the union between the Creator and His creatures is something natural and original to human beings. Everything that separates you from God is the fruit of your own ignorance, indifference, or the cunning of the adversary that, because of your lack of persistence and bravery, convinces your mind with many lies and deceptions.

Never feel distant from God, because it is only you who separate yourself from the Creator every day. Seek Him beyond the difficulties, seek Him not only when you need some help; but seek Him also to give thanks, only to be united to Him, only to create a path of union with God in the human consciousness, so that others can benefit from your experience to find, within them, the absolute connection with God.

Feel the Father within you and how, mysteriously, you are within Him at the same time. If someday you do not feel Him - because He has given you the grace of the dark night that precedes the dawn of the encounter with Him - just remain in the stillness of the certainty that, even if you are blind and in the dark, He is there; it is you who cannot see Him.

The fortitude in God, child, will be your only security, your only sustenance. Therefore, consolidate now the faith in the Presence of the Creator within you and in the certainty that He will guide your steps, as long as you are obedient and humble before Him, and He will never abandon you, He will always be with you because you will be with Him.

God is always present and silent in the innermost precincts of your inner world, in the depths of your essence. It is you who must turn to Him and reach that space within you, pure of heart and humble of spirit.

In spite of external influences, in spite of your own purification, in spite of the purification of your brothers and sisters and of the planet, unite to the Heart of God and remain within it.

Your long-standing friend,

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph
