WEEKLY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH TRANSMITTED IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF THE CHILD KING, RIO DE JANEIRO, BRAZIL, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS

Today, in My hands, I carry a parchment, and on it are Seven Primary Wills of the Heart of God for this place, Seven Divine Gifts which the Creator aspires to place in your souls, and through your souls, on this planet.

This Community has been called Nova Terra (New Earth) not so that you should hurry and live the new humankind, because that is still not possible, children. Thus, do not be in a hurry, but do not stop your steps.

The new Earth and the new life are a constant transformation. Even during and after the Return of Christ, humanity will continue to transform. His Presence will move the inner world of beings, the cells, the atoms, the consciousness, the spirit, so that little by little, you transform into the true archetype of Divine Thought, not only for the Earth, but for all of life.

This Community is called Nova Terra so that here you may aspire to that path of transformation, so that here, imperfect beings, from different parts of the universe, with histories, with memories that must be purified, may find redemption. This is the essence of the new Earth and the new life; this is the First Divine Principle I bring you: the experience of redemption.

The Second Principle is a fraternal coexistence between all of the Kingdoms, the transformation that takes place in the human consciousness through the relationship with nature. This too will be part of the new life; this is why it is a Principle of this Nova Terra Community.

The relationship with nature transforms the human consciousness. Each species adds its part so that transformation can take place. Thus, you must live this experience here with awareness and offer it to all who pass through this place, so that in contact with the animals, plants, minerals, human beings, the devas of the mountain and hills, the elementals, consciousnesses may have this experience of the opportunity for transformation.

The Third Principle is service, a service that must begin from the inside out. The first service you must learn is through the transformation of the human condition within each one of you, a contact with God through prayer, so that this connection with the Divine can help you to serve humanity. Humanity, children, urgently needs to unite with God. For this reason, the union and connection of each of you with the Creator is the first service you must provide for this world.

The second service will be to others, those who are beside you every day. Through the gift of fraternity, which I give you, learn to love one another through service. And even though you do not love and are not perfect in love, service will gradually transform you and show you the path to the essence of the brother or sister, to that which is hidden within them.

Afterwards, the service must expand to local families, through prayer, guidance, a simple presence. You must also experience humanitarian missions so you may have experience, and going through the experience of missions, mature your consciousnesses in that which, alone or in community life, you would not have been able to mature. Service will help you grow.

The Fourth Principle which I bring you today is intercession, so that you are able to intercede for the children of the world through prayer. Intercession, children, is something you must learn, and little by little, as you discover the gift of prayer, you will also discover the Grace of divine intercession.

Thus, far beyond the children growing, forming their families, making their decisions, this place will always be a space for intercession for children, because the main task is spiritual and is connected to the consciousness of the planet. Each child who passes through here represents humanity, and even though their life is not perfect, they carry a seed in their heart with them, which in acute times and moments of need, will speak to their soul about the truth, the way and life, because this is a Christic seed.

The Fifth Principle I bring you is forgiveness, because you still have to learn to forgive, and here you will have the Grace to forgive wounds from the past, to forgive errors, to forgive going off the path within and outside of yourselves. And the inner connection will show you how to do this in a mature, just and merciful way, whenever necessary.

The Sixth Principle is the transformation of life: the transformation of human life, of vices, of degenerate archetypes of the old human. For this, you must move toward self-sustainability, to work with renewable energies, and thus dispel from the consciousness everything that damages nature. You must do the same work within yourselves, making love sustainable, to transform everything that damages each other and yourselves.

And with that, I give you the Seventh Principle, which is the gift of peace; a peace that consciousnesses will find in this sacred place; a peace that consciousnesses will feel again even during times of chaos when they simply arrive here, wash their faces in the fountain, sit down and contemplate the portal of peace, and through it, nature. The spirit of peace will dwell here for all those that have lost it.

And in this way, I give you a new mission: the mission of forgiveness, of redemption, of transformation and peace.

And also, in this way, today I come in a special way to consecrate you, to welcome you under My Mantle, just as you are. The Creator does not expect perfect beings of you, He just waits for you to open your hearts so that a seed of the new life may begin to sprout, and that you live this in the name of all of humanity, that you aspire to be a New Earth, in the name of all of the Earth.

Today, children, receive this Divine Purpose for this place as well as for your souls. Receive My paternal blessing and the spirit of consecration.

Together, begin the Novena of the New Cycles [1] today, and each day you will understand what I am speaking about and how each test that will present itself before you is to cause you to grow. Just as I have lived, today I invite you to live the human transformation into divine unity.

I bless you for this, I guide you, embrace you and consecrate you, just as I consecrate this place. Far beyond where you are able or not to hear My Voice, I am always with you; I accompany you.

Feel the gratitude of My Spirit for each step taken here, for each leap into the void, for each test overcome, for each resistance defeated.

Thus, children, I thank you, for in this way, in spite of your difficulties, you walk toward God, and through you, He builds the New Earth.

Bring water here to be blessed, incense and anointing oil.

Just as this water is pure, be pure in your spirits; just as it is transparent, may you also be transparent, true to one other, so humanity may learn to enter into the spirit of truth.

Just as this incense burns and transforms, may the Spirit of God also burn and transform the human condition so that you may receive Grace, the virtues and the gifts that come from His Heart.

And with this oil I will anoint you, to thus consecrate you to this path, and wherever you may go, wherever you may be, you may be recognized as Children and Friends of Saint Joseph, as My companions, those whom I shall walk beside, those to whom I listen, those I love, with whom I am, because they are with Me.

And in this way, children, I give you the Grace, the blessing and the peace to open this new cycle.

By the authority God granted Me, I consecrate you in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Continue in peace and transmit peace to the world.
