

Wednesday, January 16 of 2013

DAILY MESSAGE OF CHRIST JESUS, TRANSMITTED TO THE VISIONARY FRIAR ELÍAS

Companions,

A new path opens with the return of My Glory to the Earth. For this, today I call you to prepare your hearts and consciousnesses for the advent of something even greater and more celestial.

Dear ones, in silence and in prayer, I accompany you, I am near your lives when your hearts call upon Me, to share with Me the life of your souls.

Adore Me. Love Me. Glorify Me, because I love you and I glorify you beyond your faults and uncertainties. Among My friends, only peace and unity reigns. If there is no peace and unity among My flocks, love will not be able to exist, and in this lack of love, the redemption of your lives by Me will not exist.

Dear ones, each path that comes to Me is cyclic, it begins again. For this, I Am the Path that you look for so as to get to the Father. I Am the Truth that will be revealed to you when your beings are prepared, and I Am the Life that takes you out from the death in which you live due to indifference, temptation and desire.

I Am this Bread of Life that resuscitates you and I Am the Source that quenches your thirst and heals you from all pain. For this My friends, you must trust in Me to find the source of the wonders and blessings because now you are My friends, those that must let Me enter in so that My Sacred Heart may work in each essence of My Father.

Where do you expect to go, but to the House of My Father? There are infinite dwellings there which wait for good souls and full servers that will serve My Great and Unique Lord.

My dears, everything has already been given to you, even the sacrifice of the Son of God on the Cross. I came to the world for you and I will come back to the world for each one of My followers. Just prepare your homes for when I come back through the celestial door of My Father.

Under the Divine Spirit of God, be blessed.

Thank you for keeping My priestly words in your hearts!

Peace and Good.

Christ Jesus