APPARITION OF CHRIST JESUS IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF AURORA, PAYSANDU, URUGUAY, TRANSMITTED TO THE VISIONARY FRIAR ELÍAS DEL SAGRADO CORAZÓN

Open your eyes to the Universe and see Me come among the clouds.

I Am the Brother, I Am the Son of God, the one Who sitting at the table with you, shared the bread and the wine to testify to the world on the Christic life.

Today I also come from a place in the world where there is much pain, where there is no peace nor calm. But today I also bring you the Kingdom of the Heavens to share with your brothers and sisters and all those who come after you, when many years go by and it is written in the heart of My servers all that I did here, how much I invited you to transform and to live My Peace.

For who follows Me lives challenges and tests, but in the end will achieve eternal life, an eternal union with God and with His sublime worlds.

But I do not stop observing you and of looking at you with My eyes of kindness, joy and tranquility.

In spite of what I see in the world, I trust in those who follow Me, in those who are faithful to My designs, in the simplicity of life, in the charity of things, in the absolute surrender of the soul to the Kingdom of God.

I do not look for warriors, but rather brave souls who are encouraged to give testimony of My Presence in the heart of all, because I come from Love, and Love is in all things.

If love is in you, the others can see it, and if the others can see it, they will also be able to feel it, and that love will unite you and will not allow the barriers of the human condition, of false power, and of unreal conquest, to separate you.

I taught you with My Path, the path of love; the love that persists, the love that is constant, the love that lives for others and that expresses in the humility of things. This is the love that the world now lacks and you must live it.

Just as I taught it to the apostles, I also teach it to you today.

It does not matter how much you fall down by My side; what matters is that you live in My Love, in My confident, clear, and pure Love.

If I am here today, it is not by chance. I come to seek something that humanity still has inside of itself, so that it is not lost. I come to institute a Law that comes from the Kingdom of My Father and that will save all of you in these critical times.

As I told you in the beginning, I come from a place where there is much pain and where the healing is still not enough, because the healers are not the majority; those who heal with the heart, with love, with charity.

But if your prayers were persistent, just like the prayers of all the brothers and sisters that sincerely hear Me today in the four corners of this planet, evil will soon be eradicated and humanity will be rebuilt by truth rather than destroyed by war.

But in the darkest hour that the world is crossing, I need your hearts to not be extinguished, but rather that every day you reaffirm the experience of that love, the experiencing of that love which moves you, that gives you the impulse to concretize the goals, just as the Universe moves.

In that place, from where I come today, suffering exists, the death penalty, martyrdom, and desolation.

I come from the place where I once had been among you and preached the Kingdom of God, so that through My Passion, My Death, and My Resurrection all souls could find Me throughout time.

I come from the Middle East, where the battle still is not ended and that battle is no longer just physical, but spiritual.

My shining angels work day and night to save the souls, and the Sacred Hearts have committed themselves to give Their last Breath until the last soul is in Our Arms in order to resurrect, in the Kingdom of the Heavens and in the new spiritual life that We donated with all of Our Love.

So, companions of all humanity, prayerful children, listeners of My redeeming Word and of My pulse of Christic Love, do not stop. Pray, worship, commune, forgive, and love. That is the only thing that I ask for this critical moment and that is the only thing that I can do for you before My return to the world.

When I return in Glory among the clouds, the suns, and the stars, nothing will remain as it is. The Earth will be divided in two parts, east and west. The straw will be separated from the wheat and nothing will ever be the same for those who have had full faith, up to the last days of the final times.

Today I come to open your eyes toward the Universe, the eyes of your souls and of your hearts, because it is the only place where you will be able to look, amid so much planetary darkness.

There are still places that exist in the world that are refuges of prayer; they are nuclei of Light for the souls, and that too is what cannot be extinguished by the action of anyone.

I need your hearts to be in My Heart all of the time so that they may feel what is real and what is false.

In this hour I come to establish an infinite purpose, a path for My followers, a path that is still full of tests and of challenges, because you have signed this commitment with Me in times past and now is the time to respond.

Incredible things will be seen, but also murky things. That will be the moment for your hearts to be merciful, peaceful. It will be the moment where fright must be transformed into light, terror into love, and fear into joyfulness.

Even though you do not believe it, it is possible.

I do not cease to gaze in the deserts of the Middle East at those that tire of so much walking, of not being able to survive, of the hunger and the thirst, of illness and of anguish.

We went to all of them and rescued them on the plane where we are able to work with all the souls. But, companions, there is a part that is the responsibility of humanity; it is humanity that must do it and it is still not the majority, because they are very much asleep and have not awakened to the call of God.

But the clock is already past its time and the realities are approaching closer to this planet.

That is why the refuge for all will be Our Sacred Hearts. The fraternity and the faith among souls will make you invincible, not because you feel proud and sure, but because you are true and simple in the eyes of God.

Nobody will miss the opportunity of awakening. Do not worry about this, companions. God has already foreseen it from the beginning for each one of the hearts of Earth.

But the world does not know purification, and we know it fears it.

But if your hearts do what I ask, you will be purified and will not lose your confidence; you will not lack love or humility, because I will keep you united with My Father through My Hands, which today offer themselves to you to touch your faces, look you in the eyes, and say to each one:

"Continue, trust in Me, I will never fail you. If I died for you, why will you not die for Me? Do you perhaps fear what I ask you?"

"Let go of your insecurity and embrace My Wholeness, feel My Love, feel My Heart, and you will be whole in all things. If I Am the pulsating Love of the Universe, why do you not risk being in Me and I in you?"

I have waited so long for you to do this and be My servant, My apostle of the end time, because in the last hour, when your life expires, you will want to die in My Arms and be born to Eternal Life, which is lived in paradise where it is always the eternal present. Receive My call with compassion, and embrace My convocation."

"Listen to the heart of your Master and do not lose your strength, because I will give you eternal strength. It will not leave you."

"If the Son lives in His Eternal Father, the Eternal Father lives in His son and His creatures live in the Heart of the Redeemer. And if His creatures live in the Heart of their Master, everything will be done for these times."

I awaken apostles so that they may serve in the planetary transition; I awaken souls so that they may pray with Me and do not tire of doing so.

If I am here it is because I love you and because I know you from the beginning until the end.

My infinite gratitude to the missionaries in Turkey, because they have seen My Visage more than two times, in the desperate faces and hearts that seek the Light in order to find Peace.

I have passed close to them many times on this mission and have presented Myself in many forms so that they may recognize Me: in the sick, in the loneliness of the child, in the desperation of a mother, in the affliction of the old person, in the desolation of the men, and I have been filled, I have been filled with the love of each one of the missionaries, because so far they have trusted in all that My Mother has told them, word for word.

I want to glorify their spirits and I want you to see in them, in each one of the missionaries, the glorification of the soul and of the spirit that serves God in fullness and in truth, without time or date.

You, companions, can also do it; you can vivify your spirits from night to morning and at each new sunrise.

The essence of all of this Work is the Love in everything that is done. That will save the world, at least a part of humanity, and in this way, I will be able to say that you have understood Me throughout these end times, that you have shared with Me in the call to redemption.

Under the Luminous Rays of My Grace, I bless all of the missionaries who in faith, give up their lives for Me and for the souls, with the authority and the Glory of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. Amen.
