APPARITION OF THE VIRGIN MARY IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF AURORA, PAYSANDU, URUGUAY, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS

Give thanks to God for the Presence of His Servant, and every day, My children, give thanks to the Creator because in these times, when humanity is even more deluded and lost from God, He assembles you in this cenacle of love and of redemption so that through planetary service, you may redeem the errors of the past and be reborn to a new life.

Always thank God, because His Mercy is infinite.

My children, today before your eyes, I open the door of compassion, of pity and of humility, so that you may live under these three principles; may you manifest them in your lives, in each small action, for in this way, the Creator will never withdraw from you and in each instant, you will be providing the opportunity for His Angels and Archangels to accompany you, guide your steps and always lead you.

If you are compassionate, you will not judge others. If you are pitying, you will always seek the need and will provide for it, thus attracting Divine Mercy to the world, and if you are humble of heart, you will allow the Creator to show you His Kingdom, His greatness, and live within you, as He lived in His Firstborn Son.

Compassion was the first step experienced by humanity to enter into the school of Christification, because without compassion, beloved children, love does not exist and a unity with God does not exist. If you are compassionate, you will not only understand the other, but you will understand yourself, you will understand the human condition and will elevate it.

The second step for living Christification is pity, true pity, which allows you to be merciful; the pity that embraces the most needy, that protects the weak of heart.

The pity achieved by My Heart when I embraced My Son, coming down from the Cross, that pity, My children, I felt for the state of the One who had sanctified each particle of His Body. And that same pity I also felt because human ignorance was imprinted on the Body of My Son. And I did not judge Him, but rather emanated the profound pity of My Spirit, so that the Mercy that emerged from the Blood and the Water of Christ could become an infinite spring for souls and for the planet. Today I invite you to live that pity.

I also invite you to a humbleness of heart, a humility that I also experienced together with My Son when I accompanied Him, in silence while He grew, and I learned from Him unity with God. That humility allowed Me to find the Creator in that very small Child.

Today, children, I invite you to learn with the children, I invite you to learn from the God Who dwells in each one of them. I also invite you to learn from one another, just as I learned each day with the holy women of Jerusalem, with the disciples and apostles of Christ. I learned, My children, to observe them grow and take the steps toward that Love that My Son was teaching them.

In the same way, I continue to learn with each one of you, with each human heart, I learn to observe its transformation, your growth as children of God. Learn, My beloveds, one from the other, every day, for in this way, you will find the Divine Wisdom which manifests for the humble of heart.

It is after living compassion, pity and humility that you will come to know true Love, a Love that made each cell of Christ revive, which made Him rise in Body, Soul and Divinity, and which allowed Him to return to each of His apostles, giving each of them that which they needed to fulfill the Plan of God, to understand that the One they had at their side was truly the Son of the Most High, the Messiah.

Learn from that love which forgives the past, learn from that love which gives what is best to those who assault it, because what is most important is love itself, and not how much you suffered to achieve that love.

If you begin with compassion, with pity and with humility, love will be an achievable attribute for you, and you will have no more difficulties in learning how to love.

Children, at this moment of the planet, you are experiencing a great battle between chaos, evil and the manifestation of the Divine Plan. For many, it is a battle without rules, where everything is allowed.

It is for this reason that I come to meet with you every day and that I try to guide you in the smallest details, so that you not become lost with the confusion that dwells today within and outside of you.

I will just ask you to listen to My Words and that every day you try to follow what I say to you.

The more you strive to defeat yourselves, the greater will be the Grace that will come to you. The more the soldiers of Christ and of My Immaculate Heart strive to extend that army to the four corners of the world, announcing and proclaiming peace, the more that peace will descend to the Earth. The striving of a few will count for the triumph of My Heart.

Many wonder how, children, I affirm that My triumph is close if the world is in the state it is in and darkness is no longer hidden from any human heart; how I can affirm that the triumph of My Immaculate Heart is close if chaos and evil seem to stretch their reign into the four corners of the Earth.

I affirm this, My children, because I know the potential for love in the human heart. If for one instant you remembered the miracle of the Life of Christ and all the merits achieved by Him in each of His steps, you will be able to understand, My children, what it is I want to build through each of you.

I want you to be like the apostles of My Son, those who defeated their crude humanity to experience love. In that time, to transform them completely, My Son needed to not only do many miracles, but to also die on the cross and rise again.

And in this time, I ask something more of you, something more profound, more spiritual. I will ask you to experience that transformation in Christ, without the need for My Son to suffer again; may you live that transformation in Christ by the power of His Love, by the power of the Love of My Immaculate Heart and of the Most Chaste Heart of Saint Joseph, who are sent to the world to transform humanity and carry it into a deeper union with the Spirit of Christ. And in this way, they unite you with the Consciousness of God.

Today, I come here, My children, to bring you a spiritual teaching and to demonstrate to humanity that the greatest miracle of these times is the transformation of the human heart and the living of a love that opens the door of the universes, even in the state the planet is in.

I say that the triumph of My Heart is close because, even when chaos and evil are so great, My soldiers persevere and learn to love more each day, to live sacrifice and to give of themselves to balance what happens in the world. And it will be through each awakened being that My triumph will occur. It will be in your examples, children, that I will erect the pillars of My Kingdom and will build the New Earth, in likeness to the Kingdom of God, here in this world.

It is for this reason that, whenever I come to meet with you, I consecrate new Children of Mary; because they are the symbol that My Love is expanding over the Earth. Each time I consecrate a new Child of Mary, the Angels are glad in the Kingdom of the Heavens, and the Creator is exalted and praised by the miracle done in His creatures, redeeming and healing new souls, new spirits.

Let the consecration as Children of Mary represent a new cycle in the life of each of you; each time a new Child of Mary is consecrated, let those who are already consecrated be renewed and rejoice together with Me, also renewing the certainty of the triumph of My Heart.

Children, as from today, let your lives be the witness of My Love, be the witness that this Love transforms all things and that it is not necessary to suffer and experience pain to find God. I want the Children of Mary to represent for humanity the possibility of finding the Creator through love, rather than suffering.

Announce to the world, My children, that through prayer and union with My Immaculate Heart, everything is possible. Compassion, pity, humility and love become possible when you are with Me and remain in My Heart in each instant.

Let the Children of Mary who will be consecrated today draw closer to Me.

To these children of Mine, I will promise peace in this life and after it. To these children of Mine, I will place you in My arms as a symbol of My gratitude for your offering of life.

Feel, My beloveds, that I embrace you, that I protect you and that I will not leave you ever, if you aspire to be with Me. I Am your Mother, of today and forever, who comes to seek you in this world and will take you to many others. I am She Who teaches you to live on Earth and also She Who will guide you in the Universe, because all the life that manifests in the Cosmos, all the Creation of God recognizes Me as Mother and as Lady.

I Am She Who, with My hands on your heads, blesses you and consecrates you, so you may be witnesses of a true transformation; may you testify to the world the triumph of peace, beyond difficulties, beyond human and spiritual limitations. May you testify to the world, the perseverance, the fortitude you do not find on Earth, but rather in God.

Testify to each human heart that it is possible to find the Creator well beyond the mind. He is beyond human thoughts, He is in the depths of the heart that prays, sometimes silently, sometimes encouragingly, but He is always there.

Testify to humanity, My children, the miracle it is to experience love, forgiveness and reconciliation with God. I will help you to be that living miracle.

Pray with Me, opening the doors of your homes and your hearts to Me; in this way, you will give Me permission to be with you every day.

I bless you, and embracing you, I consecrate you and give you to the Father, as merits for the redemption of humanity.

I thank you, My beloveds, for coming to My meeting and also, from your homes, following My Presence.

Today, I not only bless this place as well as each of those who listen to Me, each Marian Center, each Monastery, each Light-Community. I bless your works, your groups of prayer, your families, so that in this way, My children, you have a fruitful life that manifests divine principles to redeem this Earth.

I thank you and I leave the luminous sign of the Cross of My Son with you, so you may learn to be compassionate, pitying, humble, and thus experience true love.

In the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Do not forget to sing, because in that hour, I pour out My Graces, and My Angels are glad on listening to the human heart. May all the saints and the blessed in the Kingdom of God and in this world hear your voice and revive the hope of seeing new life be born in each human heart. Once again, I thank you.

Continue in peace and in union with My Immaculate Heart.

Place the palms of your hands facing up so I may pour out My Graces while I rise up to the Heavens.

Sister Lucía de Jesús:

Today Our Lady did a work in the depths of our consciousness. We will leave everybody with these Words of Mary and with the Graces She placed in each of us.

Thank you all, and together let us thank our Divine Mother.

We are grateful, Mother, for all that You give us!
