Daily Message of Mary, Rose of Peace, transmitted in the city of Assisi, Perugia, Italy, to the visionary Friar Elías del Sagrado Corazón

With the love of My children, I will always be able to carry forward the Works of the Creator.

With the love of My children, I will finally be able to bring peace to the world.

With the love of My children, although imperfect and immature, I will be able to carry forward all that God asks of me.

With the love of My children, I can gestate the New Humanity within Me, and thus see it born in a near future.

With the love of My children, I can redeem the world and pour out My Graces over those hearts and lives that need it the most.

With the love of My children, I can help the divine essence of the Kingdoms of Nature so that the restoration and the healing may be carried forward of all the repercussions caused to them since the beginning of Creation.

With the love of My children, I have permission to enter the hells of this wounded world subjected to war, indifference and omission.

With the love of My children, I can welcome into My maternal Heart the souls of the nations and everything that dwells in them. In this way, your Heavenly Mother can carry forward the Rescue Operation.

With the love of My children, in simple hearts, I can experience the existence of the Project of God, and in humble hearts, I can every day re-experience the merciful Presence of My Son.

It no longer matters how many times you fall or make mistakes; what matters, My children, is that you learn every day to be persevering and good. This will help Me to continue availing Myself of the love of My children because what must be redeemed in you will be transformed by the love you have for Me.

In the love of My children, I see the Promised Land.

I thank you for responding to My call!

Who blesses and consecrates you,

Your Mother Mary, Rose of Peace
