

Friday, April 22 of 2016

DAILY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED IN THE CITY OF BRASÍLIA, DF, BRAZIL, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS?

I have summoned you here so that you could pray with Me for this nation and so that the darkness that today blinds the eyes of many could make space for the Light of God.

I do not come to impose a change; I come to offer an opportunity for changing the destiny of this nation, to offer an awakening for souls through the authority that God has given Me.

Just as My Chaste Heart represented, for humankind, the awakening of faith and absolute loyalty to God, so I also want to offer each human heart the possibility of representing, as one who prays, the awakening of a gift that will change and balance some evil of this world.

Children, I am here because confusion is blinding the hearts of humankind and, at this moment, nobody is absolutely certain of their life's purpose. Even those who began the chaos - through the influence of the darkness - are confused today, for one who serves the forces of chaos, lives in the chaos and is deceived by their own poison that they drink each day.

I come to remove the fog that covers the hearts of beings because of indignation. I come because the enemy distracts you with the confusion of the struggle for power and absorbs you in the search for a solution to a question whose roots are lost and hidden from the human heart, for they are not found in matter, but rather in spirit.

The enemy confuses you in such a way that you become entangled in its deceptions and no longer know how to think or discern and, little by little, give more importance to reason than to faith, in search of an answer.

In truth, children, you must search now, more than ever, for the spiritual path, because it is only there that the roots of chaos will be pulled out. It is the light that must balance the dark at its origin.

That is why I am here, to wake you up and tell you not to try and understand a situation in matter that is being degenerated in spirit.

Do not allow yourselves to be confused and do not waste time seeking material solutions. Rather, plunge into the spiritual planes with no intention of leading anything and allow the light itself, attracted by your prayers, to dissolve the knots that confuse humankind.

Pray with Me during the coming days so that the Light of God may descend and bring you the clarity that will balance the darkness.

Your father and companion,

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph