DAILY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED DURING THE TRIP FROM THE CITY OF SAO GABRIEL, RIO GRANDE DO SUL, TO THE CITY OF BLUMENAU, SANTA CATARINA, BRASIL, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS

Child,

Fill your soul in the permanent and daily sacrifice. Behold the Hand of God that calls you to serve at each moment of your life. Listen to the Voice of the Creator that tells you the real necessity that you have before your eyes.

God calls many to serve from far away, and you, the Lord will call you to serve all the time. Discover God hidden in all things. Even when you are alone, He is inside your hands, calling you to work by means of prayer, to make the beads of the rosary your instrument of service, so that you may cross borders with your little heart that - united to the Heart of God - becomes infinite.

Child, realize how, despite fatigue and spiritual and physical wear and tear, your soul is filled when you live a real sacrifice.

Be willing to live not only those tests that you will inevitably have to live because destiny organized it for you; be aware of your actions and overcome yourself every day with a clear purpose.

May the missions lived by your brothers and sisters, and the impact they have in the life of the spirit, make you reflect on the spiritual impact that your surrender could have if it were permanent. You have been called by God to make your life a mission. Each creature that consciously responds to a call from God could be considered a missionary of peace.

Have you thought of how many imbalances could receive the necessary assistance if your simplest works were offered to God consciously and sincerely?

Meditate on what I tell you and do not think that it is a fantasy or an illusion, because it would not be worth the years that We have come into the world every day if we did not know the great treasure that is your surrender for this humanity and this planet that are so sick by sin and indifference.

Love what you do - when you do it for God - and let your love make your surrender grow and become unconditional. Let the love of God be greater than the love for yourself and thus live what you pray when you say to the Father that you do not chose the day or the hour to serve Him.

Never stop being cheerful with the joy of the soul because joy, when it is pure and true, makes you feel that your cross is lighter, without it being taken away. The cross will be put on you in every way because this is the law of these end times. You can either embrace it with love and make light the yoke that corresponds to you or take it with fear and make the transition of the planet eternal and sorrowful.

Contemplate the victory of God in you and your brothers and sisters, regardless of your miseries. Thank every day the opportunities God gives you to serve and to imitate His Son so that, through your imitation, one day He may inhabit in you and be one with you without you noticing.

Your Father and Friend,

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph
